THE STEAM WHISTLE NUISANCE TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS." Sir.—I was very pleased to read the letters of your correspondents "Praya" and "Torrace drawing the attention of the Authorities to this can for this glorious boon of existence. The intelerable nuisance and I sincerely trust that now the griovance is being ventileted, the agitation against it will not be allowed to subside until the evil is entirely abolished. I refer more especially to the unnecessary whistling of launches whilst alongside the Praya.

I have been unable to ascertain which of the Sovernment Departments is responsible for the icences issued to Ferry Launches and for the supervision of the launches themselves, and you could enlighten the public on this point, no doubt a respectful representation to the head such department would receive courteous attention and ensure the abolition of the steam whistle nuisance and the prompt punishment of future offenders.—Yours truly,

OVER THE SUNSHINE OF EXIST-ENGE HANGS A BLACK CLOUD.

With the uncertainty of life is mingled the dark mystery of death! While, on the one hand, we catch the welcome sound of a new breath of life that tells of an addition to our species, on the other we shudder as we hear the rushing wings of the Destroying Angel! The mighty voice of the Great Influence which rules the Universe has pronounced our fate; the dread fint his gone forth, and every mortal man is doomed to die! But, though we cannot prevent, can we postpone death? The question is momentous, even if it concern the prolongation of life but by a single hour, inasmuch as every instinot prompts us to fight the boldest battle we promptings of instinct are but the spontaneous voices of nature, and it is our duty to obey. But there still remains the question, can death be postponed by a single hour? Yes; for the world works in obedience to certain laws; and a study of these proves that those who have the judgment and the will to buckle on the shield, which nature places ready to their grasp, may ward off the insidious attacks of the implacable enemy of life, until, in a ripe old age, the vital faculties: gradually decay, and the Angel of Peace glides softly into our presence, leading us, as it were, in a gentle slumber to the regions beyond the shadow of the tomb. The Fell Destroyer makes his first approaches in many forms, but none are more favoured by him than that of a deadly foe now proying upon the very vitals of Modern Society. What is this foe? There are few among us who have not been or are now to some extent its victims. Would the reader know if he, too, is under the ban of this frightful scourge? Let him ask himself whether he experiences any of the following symptoms :-There are pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. The mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning; and there are feelings of dulness and drowsiness. The appetite is poor, a sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth, there is a feeling as of a heavy load on the stomach, and sometimes a laint, all-gone sonsation at the pit of the stomach, which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but attended in the course of a few months with expectoration of a greenish colour. The sufferer feels constantly tired, and sleep seems to afford him no rest. Nervousness, irritability, and evil forebodings follow. When rising suddenly, there is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the bead. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagment; the whites of the eyes are tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the foodat times with a sour taste and at others with a sweetish taste. This is often attended with palpitation of the heart or impaired vision, with spots before the eyes, accompanied by great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. Medical mon have mistaken the nature of the malady. Its true name is Dyspopsia or Indigestion; for which a Curative Syrup—a medicine which has won in Hongkong and Whampon Dock Company's both hemispheres a confidence founded only on its great virtues. The Syrup can be obtained from any chemist or medicine vendor, or from the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), 17. Farringdon Road, London, E.C.

> I HAVE NOT HEARD A SINGLE COMPLAINT.

"Baldock, Horts, January 4th, 1883. "Gentlemen.—Perhaps it would be appropriate to state, that it gives me great pleasure to push and advance the sales of your medicines, on account of their worth. I have not had or heard have sold them, but, on the other hand, unbounded testimony as to their worth, therefore I can with confidence bring them to the public notice. During 1882 I sold 114 dozens of the Syrup, and dozen Pills. This, I think, taking into account that the inhabitants are under 2,000, and there are two other agents in the town, will give you a good idea as to how it is appreciated hero.

FAY'S REVENGE.

A TALE OF THE "BOCK," Fay Enderby was the brightest and hand piest little wife the sun shone on; at al events, she thought herself such, and looked the part to perfection. Married for love to " man dayoted to her, with a " perfect" twoyear-old boy in her nursery, and a very fair amount of money, what more could a woman

Fay was popular to a degree amongst men, and adored by her female friends, who strange as it may seem, were almost all the women she knew; though some very superior and advanced ladies did pronounce her "a silly, beartless little thing, steeped to the lins in frivolity, whose doll-like prettiness and flippant manners were her sole claims to admiration."

When our story begins, Captain and Mrs. Enderly had just finished breakfast, and as he rose from the table Captain Enderby said, " By the way, Fay dear, if you can manage it to-day, I wish you'd call on Julia Glancy. Her husband has exchanged into the .- th. and they arrived here two days ago, and, till they find a house or quarters, are at the hotel. I met her yesterday, to my utter surprise, or the Alameda."
